

RUTGERS PLAN FACES OPPOSITION

Council Names Faley, Smith to Top Daily Posts

Le Baudour and Aitken To Form Lyke Policies

Ted Faley, editor, and Jess Smith, business manager, will direct Spartan Daily policy spring quarter.

Faley and Smith were appointed by the Student Council in its last meeting of the quarter yesterday.

Tom Evans, ASB prexy, complimented retiring editor Jerry Belcher on the "job well-done" by the Daily this quarter, and expressed confidence in Faley's competence to head the paper during the coming quarter.

Also appointed at the meeting were Marie Le Baudour and John Aitken as editor and business manager respectively for Lyke feature magazine for spring quarter.

Dick Russo was appointed as Student Court Prosecuting Attorney for next quarter, and Larry Olson was named to fill the vacancy in the Senior Justice position vacated when Bob Roberts became Chief Justice last week.

A student will be named to replace Mary Pahl as recording secretary to the Student Council the first meeting of next quarter.

The council approved amendments to the Student Activities board rules, presented by John Smee, bulletin board custodian. Copies of the new regulations regarding advertising of all types on campus will be sent to all on-campus organizations.

General Asks Longer Draft

WASHINGTON (UP) — Gen. James A. Van Fleet proposed yesterday the draft term be lengthened from its present two years "to 30 or 36 months" because American troops in Korea are "running short" of trained replacements.

Democrats Sound Off

WASHINGTON (UP) — Senate Democrats said yesterday that a GOP addition to President Eisenhower's anti-enslavement resolution would give Russia an excuse for violating her international agreements.

TV for Hearings

WASHINGTON (UP) — The House Un-American Activities committee agreed yesterday to permit television at hearings scheduled to begin Mar. 23 in Los Angeles.

No Action—Howard

MANILA (UP) — Roy W. Howard, the first foreign correspondent to interview Premier Josef Stalin, said yesterday there probably would be no violent anti-Western action from Russia as a result of Stalin's critical illness.

Draft Test Nears

Applications for the Apr. 23 Selective Service qualification test must be postmarked not later than midnight, Mar. 9.

Application blanks may be obtained by students from the nearest local board. Information regarding qualifications necessary to take the test also may be obtained from the board.

Mullan Calls for ASB Vote on Heated Issue

The Student Council ran into heated discussion yesterday over approval of the answer to the controversial Rutgers university letter proposing elimination of written discrimination in on-campus organizations.

Discussion will be resumed at the first meeting of next quarter.

"Two members of the council have attacked the Rutgers plan because they are ignorant of the distinction between written and voluntary forms of discrimination," charged Jim Downs, discrimination committee head.

"The Rutgers plan will not force groups to initiate members of minority groups, and I feel that an over-whelming majority of fraternity and sorority members here would not object to allowing other chapters of their organizations to initiate whom they wish," he said.

"If the council approves the committee's letter to Rutgers, it will imply that the whole campus approves the Rutgers plan, and I do not feel that this is the case," stated Tom Mullan, ASB treasurer.

Mullan opined that a vote of the entire student body should decide the issue.

"A similar proposal was defeated by the students in 1948, and I feel that this letter also would meet defeat," he added.

Kappas Top All In Annual Sing

Kappa Kappa Gamma, social sorority, took top honors last night in the AWS-sponsored "March Melodies."

Second place trophy was awarded to the Delta Gammas, while third place went to the Sigma Kappas.

The Kappas received the perpetual trophy donated by Ferguson's Music store for their rendition of "Of Thee I Sing" and "Just the Way You Look Tonight."

The DG's won their trophy with two Barbershop numbers, "Love Is Like a Dream" and "Give Me a Night in June." The sorority also took second place in the 1952 Melodies. A medley of American songs won for the Sigma Kappas.

A standing-room only audience listened to the two-hour program. Judges for the fourth annual songfest were Mrs. Noreen Mitchell, speech instructor; Harold M. Johnson, associate professor of music; and Jack Mighell, of Ferguson's Music store.

League Ousts Three Teams

Three independent basketball teams were dropped from the intramural league at Tuesday's AMS meeting.

The Grizzlies, the Beaux, and the Foul Balls were ousted from independent competition for violating a ruling which requires teams to send a representative to one AMS meeting a month.

Representatives of the three teams were not at Tuesday's meeting, according to Tom Berrey, AMS president.

Portions of the team's entry deposits have been forfeited, he said.

Music Groups Give Recital

A recital by members of Mu Phi Epsilon and Phi Mu Alpha, national professional music sorority and fraternity, respectively, will be held in Morris Dailey auditorium today at 12:30 p.m.

All students and faculty members are invited to attend, according to Betty Higdon, president of Mu Phi Epsilon.

Russian Future Uncertain If Stalin Dies: Bruntz

By GEORGE NALE

"Two viewpoints exist on what will happen to Russia if Josef Stalin dies," Dr. George G. Bruntz, associate professor of history and political science, said yesterday, "although no one really knows what will happen."

The first viewpoint advanced by Dr. Bruntz is that Stalin's death will mean a more aggressive policy toward the western world by the USSR. Stalin is much more friendly toward the West than some of his advisors, according to Dr. Bruntz, and any person taking his place will probably be more aggressive than he is.

The second viewpoint is that a triumvirate may take over control of the government for awhile. The three most logical men in line for this triumvirate are Georgi Malenkov, Vacheslav Molotov and Laurenti Beria, Dr. Bruntz said.

This would be the same form of leadership which existed after the death of Lenin in 1923 when Stalin, G. G. Zinoviev and L. B. Kamenev were the rulers.

"We can hope that there will be a struggle for power among the three men if they are a ruling triumvirate," Dr. Bruntz said. "If there is enough strife among the leaders the system may fall." Dr. Bruntz said this would be because the Russian people are pretty well politically educated. Because of this political education they will be more worried about a struggle for power than the people were during the period when Stalin was taking control.

"Stalin was a stabilizing influence upon the Russian people," Dr. Bruntz said.

Of the three men likely to become Premier, Dr. Bruntz believes Malenkov is the most logical man to succeed. This is because Malenkov supposedly has been groomed for the job by Stalin, and probably holds the balance of power now. He is secretary of the Communist party.

Malenkov knows nothing about the West and cares little for it, Dr. Bruntz said. He probably would continue in the pattern laid out by Stalin for world domination without war, if possible.

Molotov is the best-known of the three candidates and stands the best chance of overcoming Malenkov. He is vice premier of the Soviet Union and a member of the party presidium. He was considered heir to Stalin's power before World War II. He has favored the cold war.

Beria is the outsider who Dr. Bruntz believes would be the worst possible victor for us.

Beria is head of the dread NKVD (Russian Secret Police) and the true extent of his power is not known. He also heads Russia's atomic projects.

Dr. Bruntz believes that Beria will be the greatest threat to peace if he gains power.

A definite possibility of war exists if one man gains power in Russia and doesn't believe the people are behind him, Dr. Bruntz said. The best way to get the people behind him would be to engage in an all-out war, Dr. Bruntz believes.

Ideas and Forbidden Fruit

Freedom of every kind is always in jeopardy.

In the past few years the freedom of learning, which should be the special concern of students, has repeatedly been threatened on both national and local levels.

A prime example of this threat may be seen today in Marin county. Some citizens of the Marin school district have complained that certain material concerning the United Nations would expose their children to Communist propaganda.

Several authors listed in the bibliography of a teacher's guide to the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural organizations are "subversive," according to the complaints. One woman thought the "pen pals" program of writing to foreign students might allow subversive influences to infiltrate the minds of American children.

We have discussed the so-called "subversive authors" issue here before. Our conclusion then, as now, was that all ideas should be free from arbitrary censorship.

As for the "pen pals" issue, we would guess the woman in question is another of those intellectual isolationists who seem to be appearing with alarming frequency.

One parent opposing this woman summed it up very well: "My son is going to be subjected to all kinds of propaganda when he gets out in the world. I trust him."

Ideas, like forbidden fruit, are sometimes more tantalizing when censored. We must teach well and freely and trust those who are learning. And we must be ever alert for irrational attacks on freedom.

CAPTAIN BILL PRIDDY will lead one of the five varsity-novice track squads in today's annual interclass meet at the Spartan oval. Priddy will have tough competition from novice Owen Rhodes in the vaulters' pit. Priddy and Rhodes both have reached the 13-ft., 6-in. mark in trials. The meet record was set in 1949 by George Mattos, who later became a member of the U.S. Olympic team. Mattos' record is 13 ft. 6 in. Today's meet will begin at 3:10.

Action Begins at 3:10 O'Clock

Varsity, Novices Perform In Interclass Track Meet

Sparta's annual interclass track meet will take place this afternoon on the State oval at 3:10 o'clock.

Coach Bud Winter feels this meet will be as big as ever, with varsity and novice runners out to set new records in their respective divisions.

Fraternities and sororities will get into the act with combined rooting sections. They will compete for the perpetual plaques awarded each year for the best supporters.

Gold cups will be given to the sorority and fraternity which support the winning team.

Other awards include gold cups for the high point men in the varsity and novice divisions.

Field events include the javelin throw, shot put, pole vault and high jump.

Varsity men Paul Vuosalo and George Nickel are expected to finish one-two in the javelin, with Nickel and Dick Stults fighting it out for the shot put honors.

The pole vault event should be one of the outstanding features of the afternoon, with Captain Bill Priddy and novice Owen Rhodes competing against former Spartan and Olympic member George Mattos.

Herm Wyatt will be out to smash his own meet record in the high jump. Wyatt's record stands at 6 ft. 6 7/8 in., but he has jumped 6 ft. 8 in. in previous tries this season. Ron Dawson will try to push Wyatt all the way.

Bill Hushaw and Don Bloom, transfer from Sacramento junior college, will start the track events with the 70-yard high hurdles. Bloom is said to have a good chance of approaching the meet mark of 8.8 seconds.

Bob McMullen, NCAA and AAU star, will battle with Bob Stewart in the 3/4 mile race at 3:30 o'clock. McMullen was the only double winner (NCAA-AAU) who did not qualify for the last Olympic team.

Walt Burnett and Dawson should provide the class in the 75-yard sprint, with Burnett and Lang Stanley co-favorites in the 352-yard race. Stanley has neared the 352 mark of :38.1, and may break this mark today.

The 660 jaunt will pit Bill Stephens against Stanley. Stanley holds the present record of 1:23.4 set last season.

Dawson will enter his third event of the day in the 180-yard dash. Russ Curtis is expected to furnish most of the opposition for Dawson in this event.

The longest run of the day will be the one-and-a-half mile race which features the talents of McMullen, Stewart and Paul Bowen. McMullen's record time in this event is 7:09.8, set in 1951.

Hushaw, Bloom and Don Cruickshank will try to reach Paul Dennis' mark in the 160-yard low hurdles. Dennis ran the lows in 17.2 two years ago.

Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity and Pi Epsilon Kappa, P.E., honor society, will furnish officials for the afternoon.

Linksmen Play California In Opening Match

Coach Walt McPherson's golf team, led by Ken Venturi, will begin its season tomorrow, meeting the University of California at Mira Vista at 1 p.m.

Other linksmen who will perform for the Spartans are Stan Gum of San Jose, and Gene Broderick of Morgan Hill. Both are lettermen from last year's squad. Art Christopher, another member of the 1952 team, also will perform, as will three transfers, Ken West, Don Glass, and Jerry Drever. The trio attended San Mateo junior college and were members of that school's championship team.

The golfers have seven dual meets this season, the next being with Oregon State Mar. 24.

Bender, Reuter Win Matches

Two members of the Spartan team which meets Idaho State college tomorrow night were determined Tuesday afternoon in challenge matches.

Dick Bender and Paul Reuter, as a result of victories over Terry Ulrich and Norm Carter, respectively, will put on the gloves for the Bengal bouts.

Bender decisioned Ulrich in a close 147 lb. bout, and Reuter defeated Carter by a split decision in the light-heavyweight match. Judges were members of the boxing team.

Rounding out the mitt team will be Al Accurso —bantamweight; Mike Guerrero, featherweight; Joe Rodriguez light welterweight; Bill Mendosa, light-middleweight; and Ed Heinrich, middleweight.

Reuter's bout will be his first in the light-heavyweight division. He has boxed as a heavyweight this season, but is able to make the 178 lb. class fairly easily. Bengal Coach Dubby Holt said he will not have a heavyweight to participate in tomorrow night's action.

ISC will be without the services of one of its top stars, Paddy Garver, who has the flu. Tim Brennan, who has had but one college bout in his life, will take Garver's place in the 132 lb. division.

Joe Rodriguez will box Brennan.

Pistol Shots

The college pistol team has received word that they won one and lost two of their last three matches.

Robert A. Chappelle, captain of the team, said yesterday that the sharpshooters defeated the University of Washington, and were defeated by the U.S. Merchant Marine academy and the University of Wisconsin. The Spartans out-shot Washington 1306-1270, then lost 1341-1305 and 1256-1248.

Occupational Therapists Celebrate Anniversary

The occupational therapy department in celebration of its tenth anniversary will give a tea tomorrow in the OT laboratory, B72, from 3:30 to 5 p.m.

All college faculty members and OT majors are invited, said Miss Mary Booth, OT department head. Two members of the first graduating class, Henrietta Kleinschmidt and Mrs. Elizabeth Cooper Vogt, are expected to serve. Miss Kleinschmidt is chief rehabilitation therapist at De Witt State hospital, De Witt, Calif.

The department also will meet on campus with clinical training directors from Mills college today from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

This college is one of four on the West Coast with an accredited OT department, Miss Booth revealed. The others are Mills college, University of Southern California, and College of Puget Sound in Seattle. Twenty-six colleges throughout the nation offer occupational therapy.

The department began during World War II, when the armed services used therapists to help speed the mental and physical recovery of military casualties. "When I came to the college nine years ago," Miss Booth recalled, "there were five registered therapists in Northern California. Now there are more than 100."

After completing a rigorous academic program, the prospective occupational therapist must have nine months of clinical training. Senior OT majors treat individual patients in their homes.

Occupational therapists work in mental institutions, orthopedic and general hospitals, curative workshops, children's and military hospitals. Those qualified may teach in tuberculosis hospitals and schools for handicapped children.

Also on the menu is a hot dish and dessert.

Aeronautics Prof Returns From Conclave

Thomas E. Leonard, assistant professor of aeronautics, returned recently from Washington D.C., where he attended a conference sponsored by the Civil Air Patrol.

The conference was held to devise an aviation education program for the nation's schools and colleges.

Leonard was invited along with several other educators throughout the nation after he worked with the California state department of education in developing an aviation workshop for teachers and trainees.

This workshop designed to serve northern California, is expected to open for two weeks in August at San Mateo junior college, according to Leonard.

It is offered to teachers and teacher candidates to give them a background in aviation that they may use in their classes.

Luther Clark, who won first place in the USF tournament last weekend with Bill Johnson, and Gary Park, who took second place with Bill Tyler, will make up one team. Johnson was disqualified because he is a graduate student. Tyler is unable to make the trip.

The other team will be Chuck Holmes and Dick Breen. Holmes also will compete in the extemporaneous division, while Breen will take part in the oratory section.

Clark will participate in the impromptu debate and discussion divisions; Park in the oratory and extemporaneous. As teams, the four will debate in the two-man, Oxford, division.

Joyce Osborne will travel with the debaters to enter the tournament. She will read "The Whippoorwill," by Stephen Vincent Benet, which won her the Dr. Dorothy Kaucher oral interpretation award last quarter, and Maxwell Anderson's "High Tor."

Miss Osborne also will enter the discussion competition. The subject to be discussed is, "How can we effectively combat the threat of Communism?"
